Chairman's Report to the Shareholders

First Quarter Ended March 31, 2021

Dear Shareholders,

On behalf of the board of directors, I am pleased to present the first quarter of this year's report of MPC Caribbean Clean Energy Limited (Company or MPCCEL) for the quarter ended March 31st, 2021.

First Quarter 2021 Activities

The first quarter of the year had a few key activities that are the culmination of main events that began in 2020. Of most significance, is the completion and successful commissioning of San Isidro, a 6.5 MW solar park in El Salvador, which was successfully acquired by the Investment Company in Q1 2021.

In addition, the clearance of the subscription of the capital raised via convertible note is being finalized and the additional USD 10 M is expected to be invested in MPC Caribbean Clean Energy Fund LLC in Q2 2021.

In this quarter, the underlying assets of the Company's investment in the Investment Company showed solid performance considering adverse weather conditions and operational challenges due to the Covid-19 pandemic.

Portfolio Highlights

KPI	Q1 2021
EBITDA	USD 1,813,465.46
Energy Output Variation ¹	-7.37%
Weighted Average Availability	97.75%

The asset operations showed solid performance in Q1 2021:

Paradise Park

The technical performance of the solar park in Jamaica has met the expectations, despite difficult circumstances. The plant availability and the production output were above our target.

¹ Note: The Energy Output Variation is calculated as an accumulated difference of the actual generated energy (kWh) and the forecast (P50) energy output for the relevant period. P50 is essentially a statistical level of confidence and basis for our predicted energy generation.

Availability is defined as the percentage of time during a month that the wind turbine is operations-ready and available to produce power. This is independent of whether or not enough wind is available for the wind turbine to produce power. In regards to solar parks, it is the proportion of time that the is operations-ready and usable to produce power over a specified time period.

Please note that the productive irradiation hours and wind speeds are depending on short (daily), mid (monthly) and long-term (annual and multi-year) weather patterns. Therefore, the high degree of variability of revenue and cost patterns are shown and revenue and costs are not equally distributed throughout the year. Subsequently, the KPI are most meaningful in an annual comparison or with previous years' quarter (meaning comparing for instance Q1 of year (t) with Q1 of year (t-1) rather than with previous quarter.

Tilawind

The wind farm in Costa Rica experienced low levels of wind, but achieved good results and is slightly below the expected target. The plant availability for Tilawind was also above our expectations. However, at the beginning of 2021, the Costa Rican government-run electricity and telecommunications services regulator informed about changing the methodology for tariff band calculation for all wind farms in Costa Rica and therefore, the tariff for 2021 calendar year has been reduced effective as of 10 February 2021. As of Q1 2021, the Investment Company is in the process of assessing the commercial impact on revenues and is consulting with its legal advisor and the Costa Rican Renewable Energy Association.

San Isidro

The recently commissioned solar park in El Salvador is slightly underperforming with a plant availability and production output below our target. However, this is not unusual during the start-up phase in the first year. Correction measures have been taken and should lead to an improvement in the relevant key figures and thus show positive results in a timely manner.

Outlook

We are optimistic about the coming quarters. The Company plans to further diversify its portfolio and optimize its asset performance in order to present sustained good results for the Company's shareholders. Referring to the constantly ongoing pandemic, the Company sees itself well prepared for future challenges, due to proven measures.

I thank our shareholders and my fellow directors for their support and trust during this precedent period.

Respectfully Yours,
For and on behalf of the Company
